MY STATE OF MAINE

Hurrah for the State of Maine,
The one I love the best,
You don't have gold nor silver, rare,
But plenty of peaceful rest.
Your boys and girls are bold,
They never, never shrink,
They do what they are told,
And never call it work.
Hurrah for the State of Maine,
You are fit to lead the line,
Dear old State of Maine,
The one that I call mine.
Composed and written by Elizabeth I. Jackson, age 12 years, Norway, Maine.

A HOUSEHOLD NECESSITY

The time has passed when radio is looked upon as a plaything. It has passed through the preliminary and experimental stages. It has come to the point where the public expects service and amusement of a high class. If near-by stations do not furnish the kind of program desired, it is only the matter of a few moments to turn them out and tune in the distant ones. Some stations broadcast every half hour, giving the important news and market reports. Radio is fast growing to be a household necessity, and is found in millions of homes today for service as well as amusement.

The Studebaker Light-Six!

More are sold than of any other six in the thousand-dollar price class!

The World's Largest Producer of Quality Automobiles

More because—it is the sweetest, smoothest-running Six you ever drove. Its specially designed offset valve motor, its machined crankshaft, its four big crankshaft bearings, its perfectly precisioned cylinders, pistons and reciprocating parts are the reason.

More because—no other car in its price class shows such obvious indications of quality—genuine leather upholstery, a hand-tailored top and curtains, carefully selected details of equipment, lustrous baked enamel finish.

More because—its 40-horsepower motor, its correct gear ratio, its beautiful balance and low center of gravity, make it like lightning in the "get-away," never failing on a hill, and effortless under a full load on any reasonable road.

More because—it is backed by a great service organization, immediately and willingly accessible.

More because—its recognized used car value protects you with the lowest possible depreciation when you come to trade it in.

To prove its goodness by performance we will lend you a Light-Six any day this week—come in and ask for it.

Ordination Service

The Baptist church, Casco, desires to have their pastor, James A. Hayes, duly ordained to the Christian Ministry. Plans have been made and are now being carried out for the ordination, June 18.

On Friday, April 25, James A. Hayes was examined by the State Council of Baptist Churches in Maine, which met in the First Baptist Church in Portland.

The church at Casco was informed of the action of the board and notified to call a council of the churches in the Cumberland Association to sit in council upon the recommendation of the examining board.

An invitation has been sent to all the churches in this association to meet with the church at Casco on June 18 at 2 P. M. to act upon said recommendation.

The ordination service will begin at 7 P. M. The Rev. Vivian Broderick of Campbell, Mass., has been invited to preach the sermon. The charge to the pastor will be brought by the Rev. Homer S. HUSBAND SAID WHY NOT TRY IT

Wife Said She Would. Result, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her Well and Strong

East Hardwick, Vt.—"Last winter I was not able to do any work at all. I had backache, headache, side ache, and was sick all the time for six months. We read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the newspapers, and my husband said to me, 'Why don't you try it?' So I said, 'Well, and he went and got me a dozen bottles. It has done me more good than I can ever tell, and my friends say, 'What have you done to yourself? You look so well.' I tell them it is the Vegetable Compound that makes me so well and strong. There is no use to suffer with backache and pains. I will tell every one what it has done for me."

Mrs. Freda Primo, Route No. 2, East Hardwick, Vermont.

Housewives make a great mistake in allowing themselves to become so ill that it is well-nigh impossible for them to attend to their household duties.

In a recent county-wide canvass of purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, 98 out of every 100 report they were benefited by its use. For sale by druggists everywhere.

Cap'n M. Standish made a mistake

HE sent J. Alden round to tell the girl to get a result. Cap'n Miles had to keep right on mending his own iron socks.

We're neither bashful nor conceited like Cap'n Miles may have been. We'd like to have your heart and hand so far as building materials go.

Banish the Hand Pump Use a DURO Water System

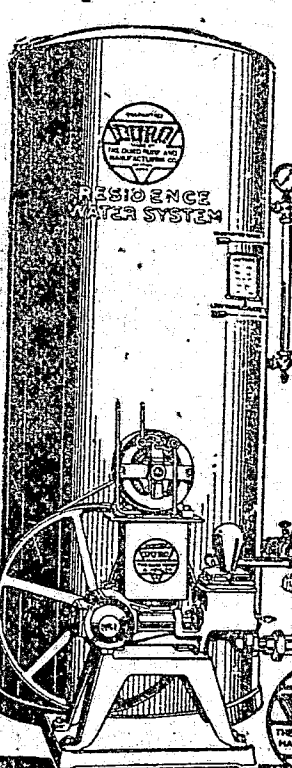

In primitive countries women is regarded somewhat as a beast of burden. She is subjected to all sorts of drudgery, does practically all the work, and her lot is hard and discouraging. This custom is rightfully regarded as inhuman and uncivilized.

Yet thousands of women in this country today are shackled to the old-fashioned hand pump. In many cases they carry the water considerable distances after pumping it. The amount of time and energy lost is incalculable.

DURO Water Systems

"Just Like City Water Service"

have liberated thousands of women, and men, from the grinding toil of pumping and carrying water. They have brought comfort, cleanliness and health where drudgery, dirt and disease prevailed before.

Duro systems give you all the conveniences of city water service. Running water under pressure in kitchen, bathroom, toilet, garden and barn is at your service.

Compact, powerful, and automatic—a Duro system is easily installed in old or new homes and costs less than 1c a day to operate. Driven by either electric motor or gasoline engine.

Duro Systems are made in many sizes and styles. Ask us for an estimate of cost.

Cuts Better Lasts Longer

You will appreciate the John Deere Mower the moment you see it in action. You will notice particularly its simplicity, its great cutting power and the ease with which it is handled. These advantages, combined with the extra years of service it gives, makes the John Deere a mighty profitable mower investment.

JOHN DEERE MOWER The Mower with the Balanced Gears

The driving gears on the John Deere are balanced—one set offsets the thrust of the other set. This eliminates side wear and strain. This mower transmits maximum power to the high grade carefully-fitted knife—that's why the John Deere does a better job of cutting and pulls lighter.

The flexibility of the cutter bar on the John Deere fits it for use in rough, uneven fields or for weed cutting on roadsides—this feature you will like.

SIZES: John Deere No. 1 regular frame mower—3-1/2, 4-1/2 and 5-1/2 ft. cut. John Deere No. 2 big frame mower for severe cutting and field conditions—4-1/2, 5, 6 and 7-1/2 ft. cut.

Another feature—if after years of use, lag develops in the cutter bar, this can be taken out—the bar is aligned by a simple eccentric adjustment. The John Deere handles easily. The bar can be raised high with the foot lever to pass over ordinary obstructions. With the hand lever an extremely high lift can be secured quickly and easily. It's no job to keep the John Deere in good running order. All parts are easily replaced; adjustments easily made—its simplicity is a real feature.

Be sure to see this mower before you buy.

Hobbs Family Reunion
The descendants of the late William C. and Amanda T. Hobbs of Norway Center met for their annual reunion rather earlier in the season this year than is their usual custom, for the purpose of helping dedicate the new church bell, given to the 1st Congregational Church at Norway Center as a memorial to Mr. and Mrs. Hobbs by their four daughters and four sons, the dedication services took place on June 1st, a program of which has appeared in previous papers.

The place of meeting for this reunion was at Elmvale, North Norway. Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Cox assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Carrie Cox, were hosts and hostesses for this occasion. The well worn latch string was kept busy and the doors swung easily from Wednesday until Saturday to a family house party of, at times nearly fifty persons. The generous hospitality and loving hearts of these enterprising and too well known to need further comment, and the days were spent very happily in social intercourse, visiting old scenes and calling upon old acquaintances. Saturday noon all were entertained at dinner by Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Cox, a very bountiful repast was served to about forty persons.

Saturday evening all who cared to, attended the business meeting, called to order by the secretary, Fred J. Hobbs. It was voted at this meeting to hold the next reunion with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hobbs at Prancestown, N. H. on July 4, 1925.

Many tender memories cluster around old Norway, in the hearts of these Hobbs "boys" and "girls" and as is with sweet sadness we recall the past and "long for the touch of the vanished hands and the sound of the voices that are still." Those present at this reunion were:

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Cox.
Mr. and Mrs. Claude W. Cox and son Donald of Auburn.
Mr. and Mrs. Carleton E. Cox and children Jere, James and Florence of Norway.
Walter C. Hobbs of Boston, Mass.
Miss Annie M. Hobbs, Lynn, Mass.
Fred J. Hobbs, Hudson, Mass.
Mr. and Mrs. W. Herbert Hobbs and daughter, Freda and Polly of Prancestown, N. H.
Mr. and Mrs. Harold Holt and children, Anna and Mrs. Theron Holt of Norway.
Elinor, Evelyn and William Hobbs of Poland, Vermont.
Wendell of Island Pond, Vermont.
Mr. and Mrs. Everett Gilman, Duxbury, Mass.
Mrs. Charles Hobbs of Prancestown, N. H.
Mr. and Mrs. Carleton W. Cummings, Mapion and Harry Cummings of Hebron.
Hobbs at all times, Fida, a brother, was unable to be present, at which much regret was expressed.

Heywood Club Notes

The club members have given two very successful social parties for the benefit of Cherrie Noble, sending her the whole profits from each and paying all expenses out of the treasury fund. They hope to give her a welcoming home soon now as she is gaining steadily at the C. M. G. Hospital where she has been nearly ten weeks with a most serious broken arm.

There was a very enjoyable pie social last week, Friday, at the Club house. Pies were auctioned off in a unique manner. The makers of the pies were concealed behind a curtain and one at a time thrust out their hand with all jewelry removed. Bids were then made for each hand and pies sold accordingly.

No one came forth with their pies until all had been sold. It was a big surprise to some when they found out they had bid on the wrong hand but it proved a jolly time. Dancing and games followed. Mellie Dunham furnished music on the fiddle assisted by Eddie Jacobson at the piano. Cards were also enjoyed by those not caring to dance.

The Club will hold a good time of some sort every other Friday evening from now on beginning June 6, at the Club house.

Dress Up!

No One Loves
a Flat Man

To strangers, the only difference between you and the beggar who asks for a dime is your appearance.

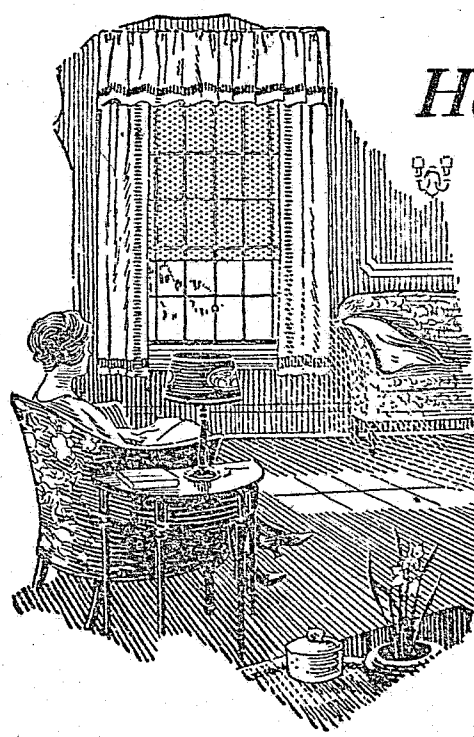

Your motor may have scarred fenders—your house may need painting—your garden may be running to weeds—without any great damage to your standing—but when you yourself start looking seedy you are headed down hill just as surely as tho' you fell down an elevator shaft.

Dress Up is a nation wide call—and by the looks of Main Street this past week, Norway men are responding with heart and hand.

We are busy supplying the clothing.

CAMP OWNERS LOSE SUITS AT LAKE KEZAR, RULING OF LAW COURT

The owner of a mill privilege in the State of Maine may flow a "Great Pond" by a dam erected on its outlet stream, and even tho the dam is not on the stream on which the mill itself is located. The fact that summer cottagers will be inconvenienced is not an objection; they have their rights to compensation under the Mill Act and cannot prevent the development.

These points are established in a decision handed down by the Law court in the Kezar Lake case, dismissing bill of complaint in Brown vs DeNormandis et als, which was argued at the last December term, at Augusta, and has been watched for its bearing upon industrial development in Maine generally.

"SKIN DEEP"

Drama to grip you; thrills that get a gasp; mystery, romance, remarkable portrayals, and a plot amazing in conception. A crook marked by a face repugnant, unforgettable; a jail-delivery that runs the gamut of thrill; a miracle of modern surgery which transforms his features and gives him a face to belie his soul; a woman who accepts and betrays love; and a girl who takes him at face value—and makes him make good! They're the elements of a play as entrancing, as dramatically original as any ever offered as a First National attraction.

—Milton Sills, Florence Vidor, Frank Campeau and Marcia Manon head powerful cast. Rex Tuesday, matinee and evening.

HOOT GIBSON IN "RIDE FOR YOUR LIFE"

—It's the fastest riding that you have ever seen! You will be talking about it for days; also the romance, thrills and comedy in this great picture of California in the gold rush days, with Hoot Gibson in his captivating role of cowboy lover. At the Rex Monday.

HOOT GIBSON IN "RIDE FOR YOUR LIFE"

—A western melodrama of the California gold rush days with Hoot Gibson as Bud Watkins, cow-boy-lover-bandit, who played so dolefully to his lady love on a Jewsharpe—and then played havoc with the gun-totin' desperadoes of the plains and gambling dens. Rex, Monday evening.

—Radio amplification was utilized by Universal to direct the 3000 odd players during the filming of "The Hunchback of Notre Dame," the stupendous spectacle which comes to the Rex Theatre on Wednesday. The result is said to be mob scenes in which each player enacts his role in perfect harmony with the rest of the action. The director, Wallace Worsley, used a telephone instead of a megaphone. Lon Chaney is the star of the production.

thoughts on what I am doing.

To particularly watch out for curves, crossings, and bridges.

To keep my car under perfect control. To keep the brakes and steering gear in good working order.

Never to stop or slow down without signalling the driver of the car behind.

Never to take a turn without care and warning to drivers of other cars.

Never to cut off another car unless I am positive that there is ample space.

Never to stop in a narrow place on the road if by doing so I inconvenience the drivers of other cars.

Never to start out from the curb without making sure that the road is clear.

To consider the safety and comfort of the other car's occupants as well as my own.

Never to try to save a minute or two or two of time if by so doing I am risking the life of a human being.

To obey all the rules of the road as laid down by law or common sense.

If I do not drive my own car, to require my chauffeur or members of my family to live up to these principles.

To be always careful, vigilant, courteous, and thoughtful—a gentleman of the highway.

Time and Not Distance Now Days

"How far is it?" is the first question of the prospective buyer asks of the real estate man who wants to show him a suburban home or a farm.

He doesn't want to know how far it is in miles, however. He wants to know in minutes or hours.

"It is thirty minutes from the corner of Main and State Streets," tells the story. "It is seven miles out," does not. For "seven miles" may mean seventy minutes, if the road is poor, whereas "thirty minutes" is definite.

A man has only so much time to spend. He cannot add to the number of minutes in a day, or the number of days in his life. Therefore, he wants to use as few of his minutes in non-productive, and unprofitable efforts as possible.

It is for this reason he wants to know the distance from his new home and his office or business in terms of time. And it is for this reason he wants to locate on a good road, for only the good road can cut down his time, without increasing his cost. The railroad can serve only a limited number of suburban towns on any one time, and the train cannot wait for them, going to, and from them at both ends, suit his convenience to the schedule. With the good road he makes his own schedule, often beats the train as to speed, and always gets into his convenience in leaving home, getting into his convenience and getting out as close to his place of business.

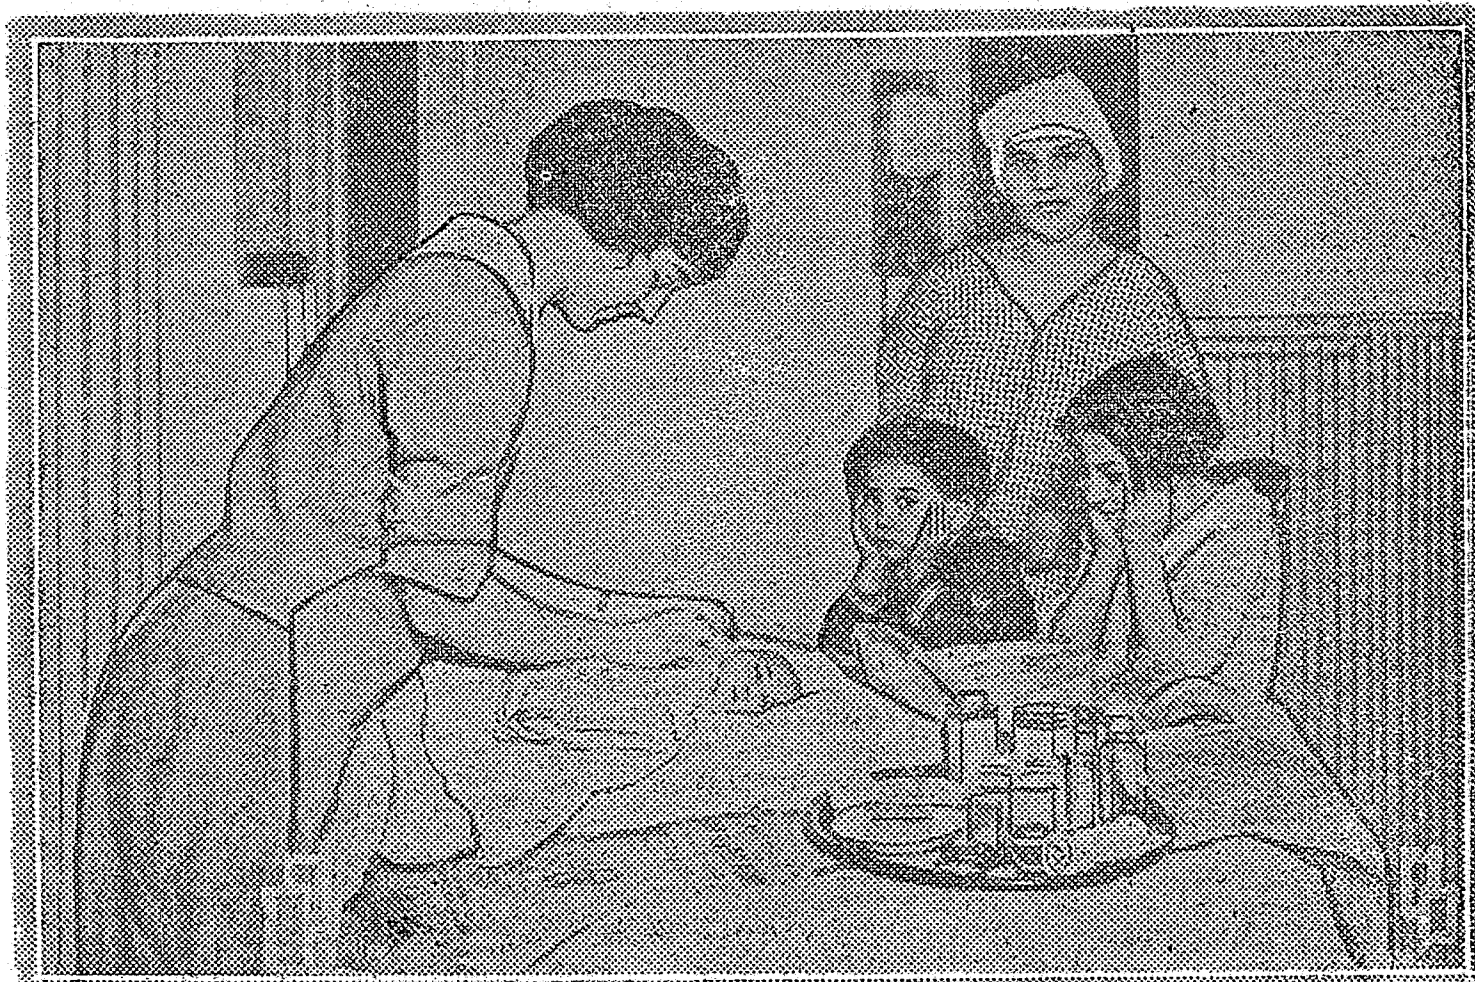

The good road, plus the motor, is translated in terms of time, and not distance, because it is time we have to spend, and time in which we have to live; it is only the amount of time consumed which counts, and not the mere number of feet or miles traveled at the time.

Pledges Taken by Twelve Thousand Motorists

Major A. A. Stewart of New York City, recently formed what is known as the Argus Association, composed of motorists all over the country, who are willing to take the pledges of the association as to safe driving. These pledges are:

To be ready for any emergency by keeping my eyes on the road and my

Nurses Carry Health Education Into Thousands of Workers' Homes; Aid Babes and Young Mothers

To the young mother the tiny new baby is like a piece of bric-a-brac. She is afraid to handle it for fear she might break it. The first bath is such a fearsome ordeal that it has become customary for the nurse who administers the pre-natal care to come and give the little stranger his first good washing.

Education of this sort is part of the work of a visiting nurse. The aid given sufferers of any sort must always be a demonstration as well, so that members of the family may continue the care. The nursing service of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company reaches 3,955 towns and cities in every state in the union and every province in Canada. In the two winter months of this year nurses made 424,932 calls at 109,495 separate homes. The nurses in more remote sections lead the life of the circuit rider travelling in their flivvers over almost impassable roads and often going on horseback or on foot through wild country to reach their destination. It requires dogged determination and physical strength to be enlisted in the service and sometimes on the outskirts of large cities the nurse will spend precious hours tramping through the mud to find a shack which is on no street and has no number.

The account is endless of the sickness and suffering caused by the ignorance of people of the poorer class and especially for children. One woman with five children had neglected an infected finger. The nurse summoned by the agent struggled through fields of mud only to find that the woman was sure it was nothing serious. The nurse insisted that a doctor be summoned, but the woman did not want to spend the money. When the doctor finally came he lanced it at once and declared that it was only just in time to prevent the loss of the hand if not the woman's life.

Most of the women are eager to learn so that they may give their children the best possible treatment. One young mother, with four small youngsters, the oldest of which was four years, was especially clean and careful, but measles invaded the home. The three oldest children had it, but the nurse said the baby needn't get it if the mother would take proper precautions. This woman's day was not so full but that she could find time to follow instructions to the letter; changing her apron every time she tended the baby, keeping him isolated in a separate room, boiling everything, omitting no smallest detail. Eternal vigilance was the price of success and the baby escaped.

—Carmel Myers was never more vivacious nor more prettier and has never given a better performance than she does in "The Love Pirate," showing at the Rex Theatre Friday evening.

—With a story that is intriguingly fascinating and supported by a big cast of hand-picked supporting stars, she sails through a series of plots and counterplots that bid fair to place her among the leaders of film artists.

—The picture is a Richard Thomas production adapted by William Lester from an original story entitled "The Silent Accuser."

—It concerns a dashing young assistant state's attorney and a beautiful violinist, who in the blindness of her ambition is lured into the clutches of the owner of the notorious "Black Bird" cafe. Carmel Myers, as a cabaret entertainer, carries the story to a big finish.

—Bootleggers are suspected of interfering with motion picture production—carrying off all the cobswebs they can get hold of. This startling discovery was made during the filming of barn scenes for Paramount's "Jealousy," due here soon. The ratters of the barn, according to design, required cobswebs, but a shortage of the filmy hangings was discovered, and bootleggers are being accused.

Some idea of the immensity of "The Hunchback of Notre Dame," the Universal production which comes to the Rex Theatre on Wednesday, may be gained from the fact that the Cathedral of Notre Dame was constructed in its entirety at Universal City. Artists and students of architecture have marvelled at the way each detail has been reproduced down to the last small gargoyles. Lon Chaney is the star of the production, which was filmed under the direction of Wallace Worley.

"Icebound" will hold you spellbound. There's tremendous story power in this romance of storm-swept, sunshine-seeking souls. And just to know it's a William de Mille production.

FORMER AROOSTOOK MAN COMPILING MAINE ANTHOLOGY

A "Pine Tree Anthology" is being compiled and edited by Carlton J. Corlies, formerly of Aroostook County, now residing at 7043 Merrill Avenue, Chicago, Illinois. This anthology when published will contain over two hundred carefully selected poems relating to Maine and Maine folk.

Sublime odes by Longfellow and Whittier, homespun humor by Day, patriotic ballads and descriptive lyrics by verse writers of lesser fame will comprise the collection.

Poems dealing with Maine in a general way, with her wonderful forests, her picturesque seacoast, her climate, her distinguished men and women, her history, legend and folk-lore, her people and their customs and characteristics are especially sought by Mr. Corlies, who writes that he will be pleased to receive suggestions or information relating to any suitable poems or verses of which they have no knowledge.

The trouble with the man who lacks tact is that he keeps on trying to crack jokes. If he would only quit trying to be a "good fellow" he would be more pleasing and less understood.

SOUTH HARRISON

Superior Judge in the West
From a California paper: "Superior Judge George H. Buck of Redwood City, California, who presided over the Superior Court of San Mateo county for more than three decades, is probably one of the most revered men of the California bar. He is famous for the bits of wisdom, which may be found tucked away, so to speak, in many of the legal decisions handed down from his bench. In years and in point of service he is among the oldest members of the judiciary in the West."

Judge Buck was born in Harrison and went West some over fifty years ago. He is a brother of A. C. Buck of South Harrison.

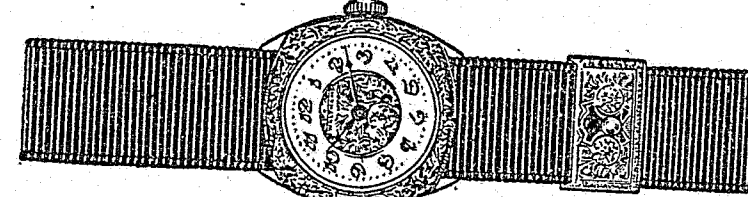

GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY
(Mr. and Mrs. Edgar H. Morgan On Their Golden Wedding)

On the twentieth day of May Comes our golden wedding day. Many years of joy and gladness have we seen, And with friends and children we have gathered here, Fifty years then seem a long and happy dream.

Fifty years have passed away, Since that well remembered day, When we started on life's journey hand in hand, And in all our fifty years, unbroken hand.

We have found more smiles than tears, And tonight we stand a dear, unbroken band. Children dear then came to bless That has made our fifty years seem ever bright, And with joy we feel to say, On our golden wedding day, That our Heavenly Father doth all things right.

"STEADFAST HEARTS"

With Marguerite Courtot, Mary Alden, Marian Battista and big supporting cast

A romantic drama of the Hills of Virginia. An unforgiving town shunned him because he killed without knowing. They called for the blood of his father through the barred door of their mountain cabin, and with the blind courage of youth he pulled the trigger. A picture that will do your heart good.

Women Enlist in National War Against Germ-carrying Flies; Provide Millions of "Swatters"

Every fly swatted at this season of the year probably would have been the founder of a dynasty if allowed to live out its allotted time. The genius of Flydom, the Napoleon who will lead his armies, laden with the deadly germs to destroy the purity of milk and pollute clean and wholesome food, is crawling about the upper wall of your kitchen today, a harmless, easily destroyed youth.

Swat him! With one stroke you will wipe out pages and pages of history and the millions of his offspring will be nothing but the might-have-beens of fiction. Swat every fly whether he seems to show promise of a great career or not. Talent takes strange twists and the puny little fellow they gave up for dead as a baby may develop into a Gladstone, Caesar, and Scipio, as a child, had to hold on tight to the railings when the wind blew. Swat the fly irrespective of sentimentality. If you swat at him and by some seemingly providential intervention of a swinging door you miss him, you may imagine that Fate has decreed he should be spared. Like a whimsical Californian you may choose to let this particular fellow survive because you've taken a fancy to him. High purpose should know no sentimentality. Don't cultivate intimacies among even the most engaging flies. Swat one, swat all.

A million more, swat all. They are being distributed just now throughout the country by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company as a part of the health campaign for their welfare division. Definite realization of the disease danger from flies is evidenced in this annual distribution. A thorough-going fly-swating campaign at this season of the year is fostered by private and public health agencies. It has many times the value now that it would have later. Swat the flies! Swat them now.

"STEADFAST HEART" HAS ROMANCE AND CHARM

Distinctive Picturization of the Kelland Novel is a Film to Please All Tastes

If you like the theme of youth triumph over adversity, "The Steadfast Heart," which will be shown at the Rex Theatre on Saturday, is a picture of love and love is sweet even when everything rolls smoothly. Success gained in combat with adverse fate is sweeter still. Here is a romance of the Virginia Hills in which a human being battles his way as man and boy through countless obstacles to fulfillment of ambition and love. Here is a story of a girl who casts aside pride of race to join her life with the man who was able to stand up for himself. "The Steadfast Heart" has all the powerful appeal of a Mark Twain story, all of the charm imbued in the Virginia mountains, all of the punch which comes from a marvelously written story and a perfectly directed photoplay.

It is easy to understand the appeal that Universal's production "The Steadfast Heart" has to women because it has probably the most thrilling of all romances interwoven throughout its stirring action. In each city where it has been presented the matinee business has been a revelation and a careful check up among patrons of the fair sex proved that it was because all were familiar with the love theme of the great Victor Hugo classic. The local engagement of the production starts at the Rex Theatre next Wednesday. The engagement is limited to one day, matinee and evening.

Briggs, Northland College, Wis., the subject, "Americans in the Making." The subject was handled in an able manner for the speaker brought down hand information from a personal experience in making real American citizens.

Mrs. Walter C. Smith and children, Harry and Glendon, spent several days the first of the week with relatives in Portland.

A new cement slab in the walk at the Congregational Church has replaced the one disfigured when the sidewalk was made. Letters and figures were scratched into the soft cement. A shoe print was left as a clue for some amateur detective.

Dan Forbes, publisher of the Oxford County Citizen at Bethel, was a caller at this office on Monday. Printing business is brisk in his office and he appeared satisfied with the type case and news ink life.

Win Allen has built a one-car garage near A. C. Hollingsworth's residence on Cottage street where he resides.

Prof. William R. Chapman of Bethel was in the village, Monday.

Thurston of Portland, who is the Cashman Baking Co. agent from Portland and is in this vicinity nearly every few days, Mr. Thurston used to live in town a few years ago before the death of his grandmother, Mrs. Susan Westwell, and says it still seems like home to him here, although he notices many changes.
